To Potential Employers of Karsten Drephal:

I worked with Karsten for two months as Day Camp Leader with Evans Lake Forest Education Society. Karsten is a hardworking, devoted young professional. In his role, he would be the primary facilitator and caregiver for eight campers, as well as responsible for delivering recreational and educational programs throughout the season.

I was always confident about Karsten's ability to run independently, and, most importantly, advocate for himself when he needed help. Summer camps are a very intense place, and Karsten was able to maintain a high work standard throughout the summer.

On a personal note, Karsten and I enjoy game development and design. We had many great detailed chats about his game Cryptobeasts which he designed, and we went back and forth on an idea for my next game. Karsten has a very creative and imaginative way of solving tasks and problems.

We would happily hire Karsten at Evans Lake again; he is still early in his professional career. However, I feel he is on a great trajectory with his positive attitude, open personality and ability to take on board feedback.

Please contact me if you have any questions or wish to seek more information.

Sincerely,
Stanley
